Easter Reflection from the Rector

As we celebrate Easter together, I am mindful that many in our town and beyond hold a fondness for the church and its traditions, even if they do not consider themselves particularly religious. It is a pleasure and privilege to share this season of hope and renewal with you all, wherever you find yourself on the journey of faith.

In our rapidly changing world, the Christian message remains a source of encouragement and inspiration; not just as something ancient, but as something vibrantly relevant to our times. Being a Christian today is not about rigid rules or withdrawing from modern life, but about embracing a spirit of kindness, openness, and community. It is also about valuing inclusion and celebrating the rich diversity among us, welcoming all people just as they are. At the heart of our faith lies the belief in acceptance; seeing the best in others, standing alongside those in need, and seeking meaning in moments both joyful and challenging.

Easter reminds us that transformation is always possible. The story of resurrection is not just about events long ago; it is a powerful symbol for us now. It invites us to believe that compassion can triumph over indifference, that hope can flourish even in difficult times, and that new beginnings are within reach for every one of us. At the same time, our faith calls us to stand up for the truth, even when it is uncomfortable, and to show the love of God through our actions, words, and attitudes. This love knows no boundaries and seeks to reach every heart.

If you are curious about the faith that lies behind our church doors, or if you simply wish to discover a deeper sense of belonging and purpose, I warmly invite you to join us. Whether you have many questions or none at all, you are most welcome. Come as you are and find out what being part of our community might mean for you.

With every blessing for Easter and the spring ahead,

The Reverend Tracy Jessop

Let's meet… Tilly Baron, Member and Chair of FADLOS

Tilly Baron is a Fakenham girl and attended all three schools here. She was not a confident young person at school and was reluctant to audition for any school performance. She joined FADLOS (Fakenham and District Light Operatic Society) at the age of 15, being interested in dancing and is now Chair of the FADLOS committee.

One of her earliest productions was Copacabana. She was delighted with the dance routines and the wonderful range of costume. It wasn't until 'Legally Blonde' which was a very new and exciting production at the time, that she auditioned for a singing part.

Little Mermaid was another huge performance as the entire cast went around on heelys – shoes on wheels. The younger members quickly picked this up, whereas slightly older cast members had to practice quite a lot!

The production coming in May is 'Frozen'. Tilly is in the ensemble, enjoying the vast number of song and dance routines in the show. Almost all of the scenery and props are designed, made and prepared by the members. Additionally, there is a whole range of roles in each production needing to be filled from within the ranks.

Tilly lives with her partner Dale, who is a firefighter, and they have his two young sons to stay every week. She and Dale run a woodburning stove business largely managed by Tilly, who can work from home. Another family member is their rescue dog called Frank.

What effect has FADLOS had on you? So many things. I would say it gave me confidence and friends; the whole team are a family who care for one another. It's wonderful to see others grow too.

What sort of commitment is required? Auditions for the May show are held in December and between January and May and there are two rehearsals a week. And scenery needs preparing and props sourced or made.

How well do Fakenham folk support you? Christmas shows sell out very quickly. The May show is usually well supported. When we put on a modern show, we have a larger number of young people in the audience which is lovely to see.

What is the most underrated thing about Fakenham? I would say the library, as they offer a lot by way of many activities.

If you could change one thing about yourself, what would it be? I'd not worry so much. Luckily Dale is there to back me up, he's very easy going.

Your pet hate? The dishwasher not being filled properly!

Who has been a great influence in your life? My parents who are my best friends. I can talk to either of them about literally anything.

Your biggest decision on the spur of the moment? Getting the dog. We had to stop on our way home and buy all the equipment!

Have you ever bought something that was an extravagance? Yes, a huge white sofa, that's big enough for everyone.

What is your greatest strength? Organisation. I'm the planner in the family and enjoy hosting a lot of parties for everyone.

And weakness? Overthinking, which just adds to worry.

What do you do in your spare time? I work as a supporting artist (formerly a film extra), but the work fluctuates. The studio in Coltishall is well used which is great as it is close by and you get paid very well. I love watching the mechanics of film making.

And as a family? We love camping especially at events or car shows.

Your concerns about modern life? Social media presents a lot of false information which leads to jealousy or envy.

How would Dale describe you? Hopefully he'd say I make him laugh. Both of us have a good sense of humour and we laugh a lot.

Your earliest memory? My brother and I being scared by a spider in a hedge. I was about 3, but I'm still scared of them now.

Have you ever been touched by the kindness of a stranger? A lovely lady at the Christmas Tree Festival gave the children 2 full money bags of coins as she noticed they had run out; they were so pleased.

Do you have a religious faith? In some ways, but I don't follow a religion, just accept it as a part of my world. My Dad was a churchgoer in the past but I just like to go at Christmas.

What do you do to relax? We've got an allotment in which we grow tomatoes, pumpkins and squash and we also keep chickens up there.

What would your luxury be on a desert island? My partner.

What advice might you pass on? Always be yourself, don't be afraid of being different.

What lessons has life taught you? To be kind, you don't know what someone else might be going through.

Town Council Viewpoint

Norfolk High Streets Matter

The town council has received some funding from this initiative and disbursed by North Norfolk District Council. The new planters with spring flowers in various sites in the town centre were funded by NHSM monies, and beautifully planted by the Fakenham Gardening Club. Thanks to all concerned for bringing some much needed cheer after the awfully long spell of dull weather.

North Norfolk Wombles

Those of you who follow Facebook will have seen the extraordinary efforts of this terrific group of volunteers who collect huge amounts of rubbish selfishly thrown from vehicles onto verges or in laybys in our area. They regularly post pictures of bags of rubbish, old car (and lorry!) tyres left at the roadside, hub-caps, bits of car bumper, you name it, someone will discard it thoughtlessly. In a The group receives regular thanks from FB users, but I wanted to say publicly a big 'Thank you' to Wombling volunteers! You know who you are...

Allotments - get going with growing!

As the weather continues to improve, thoughts may turn to growing your own vegetables for your family. The council still has a few allotment sites to rent at very reasonable rates. There is something very special about digging up a few potatoes, and taking them home to enjoy, and the smell of freshly picked tomatoes is just amazing. If you would like more information, just contact the office on 01328 853653 or email: info@fakenhamtowncouncil.gov.uk

Angela Glynn,

Launch of the 2026 Christmas Tree Festival
Fakenham Parish Church

Our Christmas Tree Festival will take place from 26 November to 3 December 2026, and we are delighted to invite local charities to be part of this much-loved event.

The official launch evening will be held at 7.00pm on Wednesday 22 April in the church.

Members of the Festival team will be on hand to explain how the festival works, outline what's involved and answer any questions.

Charities wishing to apply to take part should ensure that one or more representatives attend the launch evening, as active involvement will be expected if an application is successful.

Application packs will be available on the night only. They will not be sent electronically or by post, so please be sure to note the date in your diaries and join us if you are interested.

The story of a hymn - Be thou my vision

Be Thou My Vision is an Easter Song– and may be the oldest piece of music still sung in the Western world today. It was thought to have come from a 6th century volume of poetry, the work of the Christian poet St. Dallan Forgaill (560-640 A.D.), which was revived in the early 20th century. Its survival is amazing given the fifteen centuries between the writing and the present day singing. Easter provides the explanation with its message of resurrection, new life, and God's grace.

The Irish text was translated into literal prose by Irish scholar and academic Mary Byrne (1880-1931), a Dublin native, and then published in the journal of the School of Irish Learning in 1905. Some years later, it was versified by Eleanor Hull (1860-1935), based on Byrne's translation. Following the original publication in Ireland, the hymn was included in a number of British hymnals and has become a standard hymn in most hymnbooks today. The music comes from the traditional Irish tune Slane taken from The Irish Church Hymnal in 1919. It was a folk melody, originally taken from a non-liturgical source, Patrick Weston Joyce's Old Irish Folk Music, with the title 'With my love on the road.'

Between text and melody, it's a very fitting partnership.

Be thou my vision,
O Lord of my heart;
Naught be all else to me
save that thou art.
Thou my best thought,
in the day and the night,
Waking or sleeping,
thy presence my light.

Riches I need not,
nor all the world's praise,
thou mine inheritance
through all my days, thou and thou only
the first in my heart,
high King of heaven,
My treasure thou art.

Rotary's BIG New Year £3,500 Give Away!

The Rotary Club of Fakenham & District have been pleased to start 2026 by making substantial contributions to local Charites and good causes such as the Fakenham Area 1st Responders, Wells Lifeboat, Fakenham High School "Christmas Food – Families in Need" Appeal, Fakenham Rugby Mini's, East Rudham Primary School Library Appeal and the Fakenham Parish Church Christmas Tree Festival.

We arranged a wide variety of fundraising events during 2025, from an indoor Duck Race to a Car Treasure Hunt and Quiz Night, from a Cliff Richard Tribute Act Evening to a Grand Christmas Raffle – and not forgetting arranging for Santa himself to meet local children just before Christmas!

We are indebted to the many local businesses who have generously contributed raffle prizes, financial assistance and support throughout the year. These have included; Stephenson Smart (accountants), Fakenham Garden Centre, The Dabbling Duck (Gt Massingham), Raynham Farms, Bailey Bird & Warren (Estate Agents), Duffield & Sons, and Fakenham Town Council.

Despite depleted numbers, the Fakenham Rotary Club is determined to keep raising money for more Charities and good causes throughout 2026.

If you would like to help support the work of Rotary in Fakenham by offering your time (we meet for an hour 2 or 3 times a month, and socially for an evening meal once a month), we'd be delighted to hear from you! There is no obligation to attend every meeting – we are a friendly bunch and you're guaranteed a warm welcome!!

If you can't spare the time, but would still like to help Rotary financially or by contributing raffle prizes, or even ideas for fundraising events, again we'd be very pleased to hear from you – just contact our President, Gordon on 07881 525407 Thank you for all your support!

FAKENHAM AND DISTRICT COMMUNITY ARCHIVE

Since next September will be the 10th anniversary of the death of an important, well -known Fakenham man, this is a photograph of him from the Archive, donated by the Fakenham Heritage Group.

Dr. Edwin Michael Bridges MSc PHd was a descendant of Jim Bridges who helped found Massey and Bridges, Fakenham's car hire and motor retail business, that started operating in 1919.

Living in Derbysire, Swansea and the Netherlands Mike became a soil surveyor and professor. Following his retirement in 1980, he became the director and then the chairman of the trustees of Fakenham's Museum of Gas and Local History, working hard to maintain it. While there he also helped write lots of booklets about many aspects of the history of the town and also helped a lot with the work of the Archive.

A new plaque in his memory has recently been put up in the museum.

If you would like to see any more of the huge collection of photographs, videos and scrapbooks of Fakenham from the Archive just come along to one of our meetings in church that take place from 2.00 to 4.00 on the last Tuesday of every month. You can also see them online at www.fakenhamcommunityarchive.weebly.com

Howard Young

Old Fakenhamian

Having been educated in a Church of England school, and brought up a Methodist, I knew little about the Catholic faith (apart from the fact that my school friend Denise was allowed not to attend assembly as she was a Catholic).

I was interested to read recently that the skeletal remains of Saint Francis of Assisi were to be on display for the first time in order to mark 800 years since his death.

In August of 1975 with the earnings from my summer job I went to Perugia in Italy to study Italian at the Universita per Stranieri (The university for foreigners). Perugia is a spectacular hill city in Umbria dating back to Etruscan times with a breath-taking view of the town of Assisi across the valley.

One weekend I took an afternoon bus to Assisi to visit the Basilica of Saint Francis – his birth and burial place and to see the beautiful frescoes by Giotto. I should have taken an earlier bus. The Basilica is huge and on two levels and finally, I descended the stairs leading down to the crypt where the saint's sarcophagus is housed. A mass was taking place attended by a group of nuns, so I sat at the back experiencing something new to me. After a while I felt that I was somehow intruding so went back upstairs and headed back to the main entrance. Imagine my dismay when I found it locked and that I was alone in the Basilica.

Well, at least I knew that there had been nuns there so hastened back towards the crypt in search of help, hoping and praying that their mass had not finished. Frankly, I was extremely worried that I was destined to spend the night alone in darkness (with maybe a few candles burning and did they have toilets?) My prayers were answered as I came across a lone priest in the main aisle. In my limited Italian I tried to explain my predicament. He listened for a moment and then said: 'Golly Gosh' and proceeded to talk in excellent English.

He was very kind and took me to a side door which opened onto a lovely walled courtyard at the end of which was a gate set into the wall. He told me to exit by the gate. I can still feel that silent place and the sensation when I opened the gate and stepped out on a wide terrace filled with the light from a beautiful summer's evening and with Perugia in the distance across the valley.

I am sure thousands of people will flock to Assisi to view the remains of St Francis. Instead, I have the unique memory of being alone in that wonderful place and having encountered my own personal saint who came to my rescue. Saint Golly Gosh.

Gilly Foortse

Help us find Fuzzbutt!

Last October we had our annual Pets Service in Church, and it was very well supported with a good number of dogs, cats & guinea Pigs and other exotic animals there – all very well behaved… even the owners. However, during the service, one of the congregation, Flora Islop, did lose her pet - a tarantula called "Fuzzbutt".

Although Tracy, Flora and the Church Wardens did carry out an extensive search of the Church at the time, Fuzzbutt could not be found, and it was assumed the spider had crept away into one of the old floor heating grills, which, (apart from digging up the new floor), are not accessible.

The decision was therefore made to leave her alone, as (out of her heated vivarium) she would be going into hibernation through the cooler Winter months.

With the Springtime weather now approaching, it is thought the arachnid may now start waking up and looking for somewhere suitable to lay her eggs.

She could lay anything from 500 – 1000 eggs around early May, so there is some urgency in trying to find her. If anyone sees Fuzzbutt whilst attending Church during April, (we would recommend a good look under the pews before settling down for the services), PLEASE let the Church Wardens know as soon as possible. It may also be a good idea to bring a fishing net and a Tupperware box with you to Church, so we have somewhere to house the spider until she can be collected by Flora.

We would add - please do not panic! Although Fuzzbutt could give a slight nip if disturbed, she is not venomous to humans, and is not usually aggressive. In fact, tarantulas are quite intelligent, and Fuzzbutt does respond to her name – so it's worth giving her a call!

Christ Church, Fulmodeston

Once again on Good Friday this year we shall be welcoming a group from the Oxford Leg of the 2026 Pilgrim Cross pilgrimage to Walsingham, stopping at the Old School Hall for lunch and a break before the final stage of their pilgrimage. Pilgrim Cross is a registered charity, designed to be accessible and inclusive, particularly for the unwaged and those on low incomes or with physical challenges who might want to participate in a pilgrimage but may feel unable to do so. We are always delighted to receive them: their presence here is among the many signs that spring is truly springing and that life's outdoor activities are again becoming enjoyable rather than simply essential.

People may say, sometimes by way of a compensation I suspect, that they are so thankful to live in a climate with defined seasons rather than some all-year-round balmy spot, but as all of us at this time enjoy being surrounded again by life and colour - we have Little Helpers as far as the Hay Fever is concerned - the words ring especially convincing just now.

A very happy, bright and colourful Easter to you all from us at Fulmodeston.

April Services
